Bonnie Bennachie captured on film

THE Garioch's most famous landmark is the star of a brand new video out this week.

"Bennachie" was commissioned by the Bailies of Bennachie, and takes an affectionate look at the many sides of life on the mountain.

And as well as giving a live portrait of the hill itself, the 35-minute film will give locals a chance to spot a whole array of familiar faces.

The Glenkindie-based Grimley Partnership was responsible for the actual making of the film, and the Bailies hope it will prove a hit on the Christmas market both at home and overseas.

The camera follows three of the most popular walks on the hill, stopping off on the way for snippets of the history and topography of Bennachie.

Bailies founder Dr Danny Gordon outlines the aims of the Bailies, and the film illustrates his words with glimpses of the organisation's year-long work to maintain and preserve the natural landscape.

And some of the wealth of music and poetry written about the hill over the years provides an ideal backing for the pictures.

The aim of the project, according to the Bailies, is: "To provide a delightful Bennachie experience which can be enjoyed over and over again, in the comfort of the living room, by all who love Bennachie, wherever they live."

The video costs £9.99, and the Bailies hope to sell 2000 copies to meet production costs.

Copies are available from local Bailies council members, and the film can also be ordered from Mr Peter Smith, Westfield, Premnay, Inch.
